KEEN INTEREST AROUSED

In Hospital Election. The most absorbing topic of conversation in Princeton this week seemed to be the forthcoming election of trustees to the new Board of Princeton Hospital. The meeting of the Hospital Corporation on Monday, February 27, at 8 p.m. (place to be announced) promises to be a standing-room-only gathering.

A new 50-member organization, the Friends of Princeton Hospital Committee, announced this week a slate of five candidates to fill the five posts open on the Board of the Hospital. Princeton Hospital has joined the Committee in sponsoring the candidates.

The deadline for nominations was Wednesday night and the hospital is expected to announce the names of other candidates this Thursday.

The five candidates nominated by the Friends of the Hospital are: Robert Garber, 39 Franklin Road; Mrs. Harry C. Hart, 21 Lilac Lane; Dean Elmer G. Homrichhausen, 80 Mercer Street; Dr. Richard A. Lester, 121 Broad Street; and Nathan Sprague, 184 Nassau Street.

Dr. Garber, a psychiatrist, is medical director of the Carrier Clinic and was superintendent of the N. J. Neuro-psychiatric Hospital from 1952 to 1954. Dr. Homrichhausen is Dean of Princeton Theological Seminary and a member of the Borough Board of Education. Mrs. Hart is a trustee of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association and a former member of the board of the Family Service Agency.

Dr. Lester is professor of economics at Princeton and a former member of Borough Council. Mr. Sprague is consultant on rehabilitation and administration, and chairman of the department of preventive medicine, Seton Hall College of Medicine. He is also a research assistant with the state disability insurance service.

Platform Set Forth. The Committee has stated that it asked these candidates to run for a new look at the entire government of the hospital. "The effort to make constructive improvements" and because they believe in the principle of rotation on the Board of Trustees. In addition, the Committee says that "each candidate wishes to work for the improvement of relations between the Hospital administration, the physicians, the staff, the patients and the community."

Thomas P. Cook, co-chairman of the Committee, says that the group is "not out to get anyone," but believes that those who are nominated to the Board of Trustees should be given an open mind on the question of the hospital administrator and the presidency of the Board. Mr. Cook also says he feels that the trustees should be given his term of office, train a vice-president who could then assume the presidency after a stated period of time.

"No one is pointing a finger of criticism at any individual," says Robert Van Der Velde, a member of the Committee. "Our chief interest is in wider community participation in the affairs of the Hospital."

He says that during his campaign for election to Borough Council on the Democratic ticket last fall, he was approached by many people who thought he should be looked into." Mr. Van Der Velde says that no specific charges were made, but that people who spoke to him felt that the situation at the Hospital should be studied.

"We are dissatisfied with the concentration of power within the Board of Trustees and the Hospital administration and its use, without democratic checks," Mr. McAlpin said.

We are all very remembere the ancient famous "horse-trad" of all, when, in mythology, the Trojan Horse was offered to the people of Troy in trade for their good will. Well, we have the up the details, and sure enough, in the "horse-trading," someone got "stuck," but good!

It was a big beautiful horse on the outside, but hidden inside were the enemy, Greek soldiers, who stormed out of their hiding places soon after this selected wooden horse was pulled through the gates of Troy that was one time when a gift horse should have been looked in the mouth.

An automatic gun went out to stop the Trojan Horse, but fatal on the outside, but plain financial poison for you on the inside. Of the 13 thousand parts that make up a new car you can buy for no more than the surface of a hundred or so. The integrity of the dealer from whom you buy is the only insurance that some of the other 12,000 parts will not turn out to be your enemy, literally and disastrously.

Well, let us repeat that we'd rather be captured by you with our integrity intact than ever to have it believed we had sold a Trojan Horse. That policy has received us, as you are abundantly rewarded every time you trade with us.

The Committee will campaign for its candidates, "very definitely and strongly," says Mr. Cook. According to two members of the Committee, the Hospital has been told this week that the Hospital would accept the Committee's slate, but Mr. Wallace says that the Trustees as a group have never said that they would do so.

The Committee was started by a small group which had formerly been affiliated with the Childbirth Education League. The aims of that group are not predominant in the platform of the Friends of the Hospital.

Mr. Cook says that such masters as fathers, labor room and delivery room, in the opinion of the Committee, be left up to the Trustees and the medical staff. Two members of the 11-man executive committee are fathers, and were associated with the Childbirth League. They are Mrs. Dennis Flanagan and Mrs. John K. Hemphill.

Mr. Van De Velde says that the Friends of Princeton Hospital plan to continue in operation after the trustee elections so that they can serve the Hospital in any capacity including fund-raising. Mr. McAlpin reports that the group is eager to maintain friendly relations with both the Hospital and the Trustees.

BUDGET APPROVED

For Township Schools. The 1961-62 school budget of $1,312,521.25 was approved Thursday night by the Township Board of Education after a public hearing attended by more than a dozen Township residents.

Highlights of the budget hearing:

• For the last ten years, according to Mr. Daniel of the school board, the number of Township children has increased "in direct linear proportion" with Township rates.

• Mr. Daniel pointed out that each new child pays for himself, however.

• The Board seemed to be investing extra construction money for Johnson Park and Riverside School until it was needed to pay construction and to keep the school's long-term solvency with funds earmarked for the new school.

• The Township no longer repairs the teeth of indigent children. This is now done at Princeton Hospital, and the Township's dental tonics are up for sale.

• Thirty percent of the budget is for roads, which have been the main routes to traverse. Where the Township's sidewalk program is completed some houses can be dropped. It costs $1,300 to operate one bus.

• The Township per-pupil cost is $440.

The snow and cold this winter have been the Weather Bureau checking records, with the following results: the 13-day period from January 19 to 21, 1961, was unmarked by a single reading as high as freezing, a single reading as high as freezing has produced a colder stretch than any since the fluctuating winter of 1947-48. The average temperature during this time has been 16 degrees.

Two readings below zero (minus four and minus five) were last week, while the highest was 24 on January 24 and the average for the month was 26.5 — six degrees below normal and therefore one of the four coldest Januaries in Weather Bureau history.

Snowfall so far during the December-January period, totalling 37.8 inches, is also a record for these parts. . . . about five inches of that amount fell on top of the old four inches of snow on Thursday . . . and the forecast calls for the possibility of snow or rain this Friday.

Democratic leaders met for three hours at Morton Saturday in an attempt to unravel the complex political picture, without positive result. . . . hopes that Congressman Frank Thompson of this district would soon announce his candidacy for primary warfare, through a strong candidacy, were ended last week with his announcement that he would stay in Washington to aid the Kennedy administration. . . . Three candidates (from Hoboken, Hackensack and Fort Lee) are already seeking the nomination, with others expected to weigh in during February . . . another Morton meeting is set for this Saturday in an effort to keep one man with administration backing.

Republicans, too, are far from agreed with their men definitely candidates and a strong possibility, the situation in both parties will remain in a state of flux until very close to the March deadline for filing petitions to place names on the primary ballot.

American Field Service exchange student Poly Busselle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Busselle, 57 Lovers Lane, made the honor of Miss Fine's School by achieving honors during her scholastic stay in Finland, from where she has just returned.

Miss Busselle's mother has a one-third share in a $1,000 TV prize following her participation in the show, "To Tell the Truth."

The office of the Township Building Inspector, W. J. Shinn, and the zoning and planning departments of the municipality are now located in the former Stony Brook School, 1000 Stony Brook Bridge on the Princeton-Lawrenceville Road. . . . signs of time notes: Mr. Shinn's annual report for 1960 shows that five building permits were issued for fallout shelters.

POLICE RESCUE HARTS

From Blazing House. Fire that had gained great headway before it was discovered forced a second-story window of two Princetonians in near-zero temperature Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hart of 21 Lilac Lane were taken to a hospital from the roof when smoke and flames made it impossible to go downstairs from their bedroom.

About 11:20 p.m., Mr. Hart heard a crackling sound and opened the window to discover the fire was burning, he telephoned Borough Police headquarters while Mrs. Hart dressed hurriedly.

While the alarm was being turned in, five policemen in three cars converged on the scene. A ladder in a nearby shed was used to pull the Hart's and the Harts descended safely.

"The rescue was accomplished by Sgt. Robert Anderson and Patrolman George Gallant and Charles Harris of the Borough; Sgt. Richard Steiner and Patrolman Orlando Cannarelli of the Township. It was the first such escape from a fire in Princeton in many years.

Danger Is Extensive. The extent to which the fire had spread before it was discovered made it impossible to save any of the furnishings and household articles. Much of the ground floor of the three-story frame and stone building was gutted, and the flames burned upward through the roof. Water damage was also high.

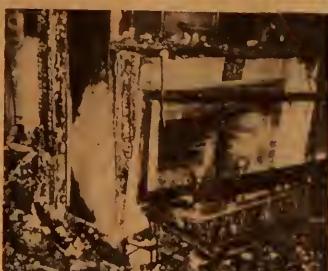

The Princeton Fire Department was on the scene for the better part of four hours, working at top efficiency despite the extreme cold. The sub-freezing temperature at no time affected the flow of water.

Mrs. Hart said that the central portion of the house is pre-Revolutionary and had been built about 1750. She said that faulty wiring might have been the cause for the fire, but the origin has not officially been determined.

Fire Chief Karl Bohm said the damage was extensive, but a survey of the house Monday morning showed that the nail burner in the basement had not been the cause. It has been ascertained that the flames broke out on the ground floor, spreading upwards quickly through the two-story shell and blocking the Harts' exit.

NEW STATE TAXES ASKED

To Meet Record Budget. A

record state budget of $167 million has been announced by Governor Meyer for the fiscal year beginning July 1. With that figure, an increase of $36 million over this year, proposed tax levies in three departments: utilities, motor vehicle registration and real estate transfers.

The proposed budget also would close the $30 million gap between the budget figure and anticipated revenue for 1961-62 totaling $432 million.

A surplus of over $1 million in highway construction budget, and more than $1 million in highway construction has been postponed until next year because a deficit in the current budget was imminent.

How Much More? The new program would add 2 percent to utility bills (gas, electricity, telephone and telegraph) of New Jersey residents, creating an anticipated revenue of $14 million. The proposed 1 percent real estate transfer tax would yield about $10 million a year for the state. Whether it would be paid by the buyer or seller or split between the two has not been decided.

Automobile registration fees would be increased: small cars under 2700 pounds, from $10 to $12; medium-sized cars from $12 to nine out of ten drivers, from $12 to $15; and large cars, from $25 to $30.

The fees for truck registration would follow a complicated schedule, with an average increase of 26 percent. Duplicate registration certificates and insurance when a car is sold would cost more. About $15 million a year would be raised through these increases.

Way Out? Governor Meyer pointed out that at least some of the proposed increases could be avoided if the 10 percent Federal telephone and telegraph tax is released to the states, and if the Legislature adopts the computer tax suggested by the Comptroller.

The computer tax, killed by Senate Republicans last year, would gain for the state income tax payments made by New Jersey residents to New York. Doubt was expressed in 1960 that New York would suspend the measure.

The Governor recalled his election promise to levy neither a sales nor income tax. New Jersey, Texas and Kansas are the only three states without either of these taxes. A 2 percent sales tax would bring in about $116 million a year, according to experts.

NEARLY $1,000 RAISED

By Princeton Simkin Club. A record total of $3,985.10 has been raised by the Smith College Club of Princeton through its recent auction and raffle, it has been announced by Mrs. James F. Hill, club chairman. The auction, which was held Saturday in Miss Fine's School gym, brought in $2,805.10 and the raffle netted $1,183.00. All proceeds will go to the club's Scholarship Fund.

Winner of the raffle for a week's vacation trip to Bermuda was Mrs. David R. Deering, of 100 Rock-Hill, Blawenburg. Board at Blawenburg Drawing for the raffle was held Saturday during the auction. Raffle chairmen were Mrs. C. Barnwell Strait and Mrs. John Stover.

The total of $2,805.10 raised by the auction is the highest in the club's history. The annual event was well organized, included in this total are $223.37 from auction sales, $205 from the sandwich sale, $160 from the sale of baked goods and $200.73 from the small gifts table.

Contributions to the Scholarship Fund make it possible to offer scholarships to Smith College to girls from the Princeton area. The scholarships, of varying amounts, are awarded on the basis of the student's scholastic achievement, extra-curricular activities and financial need. Miss Joyce Washburn of Pennington was winner of the 1961 scholarship. Those interested in a Smith College scholarship should apply through their school principals. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Gordon G. Stiles, 36 Olden Lane, scholarship chairman for the club.

RAMBLER'S OFFER

Rambler says "Yes, You can do something to up the mid-millennium slowdown" . . . we agree.

Rambler offers to share production with Rambler car buyers during Dec., Jan., Feb. and March.

Rambler will give the benefit of savings in increased sales by presenting you with U. S. Government Savings Bonds, Series "E". The basis of comparison will be Rambler sales for these same months last year (1960).

Without any cost to you . . . U. S. Bonds of $25 - $50 - $75 - $100 - $25 can be yours on an increase of 10 - 20 - 30 - 40 - 50%. You also share in the sales increase of March if you order now during Feb. . . so you stand to gain double or more in U. S. Bonds from Rambler.

Please remember these facts . . . Rambler in 2 years has more than doubled its percent sales of the car market. Yes, Rambler sales for each of the last 39 straight months established a new record for every month. Rambler sales increased 21% in 1960. December increase was 13.9%—so our buyers of Rambler cars in December already received U. S. Bonds. (January figures not yet known).

OUR SPECIAL FEBRUARY OFFER

Now, we (Lahiere-Kane) offer to match an equal amount of U. S. bonds as our bonus to you if you act now and help us in Princeton establish the greatest increase for February sales of any Rambler agency in the U. S. A.

This means that if the February Rambler sales increase entitles you to a $25 Bond from Rambler, you also get a $25 bond from us. If the February sales of Rambler entitles you to a $50 or even $125 in Bonds from Rambler we'll match it with a like amount.

ALL STAND TO GAIN

You are invited to come in and "let's talk it over." We are certain you will be pleased and glad you did. Please remember it's such a comfort to buy your car where a complete auto-service is at your disposal (in the heart of Princeton). You will always receive the same "front door" reception when you come in to service your car as you did at first to just look around.

We give you the very best honest deal possible (ask your neighbor). Yes, we can finance your car at the lowest bank rates.

As one wag remarked, "Let's hope the ground hog sees his shadow Thursday so we'll have six weeks longer."

It's been a long one already, and for the immediate future, there'll be more of the same, I fear. Thus, it's possible, continuing as it is, a virtual certainty.

Lawson was apprehended by Patrolmen Samuel Lisi and Michael Koplin. Detective Fred Porter was the complainant. Dowers appeared Monday before Magistrate Michael T. Hill, and was given a $100 bond which set on the Township bench in the absence of Magistrate James Hill, and was committed to the county jail without bail to stand trial for grand jury action.

MOTORIST FINED
For Reckless Driving. Borough Magistrate Theodore C. Tanski, 50, fined 22-year-old C. T. Tanski, a graduate student from Santa Ana, Calif., $25 this week for reckless driving.

In addition, a recommendation was made to the New Jersey State Police Vehicle Department that it revoke Mr. Struble's license for 60 days.

Traveling on Nassau Street on December 3, Mr. Struble crossed over the white line into oncoming traffic and a car plowed into it. A parked car, jumped the curb, knocked down a parking meter, continued across the sidewalk and struck a Bally's sign. The car then hit a 6' Nassau, breaking an 8 x 6 foot plate glass window. The car came to rest three feet from the witherspoon's Street curb after traveling 100 feet on the sidewalk.

News Of The THEATRES

TEAM PRESENTS "LEAR"

As First Shakespeare Play. A 28-member team of actors and directors who have, among them, directed 100 Shakespeare productions, will join this week in presenting "King Lear," the opening play in McCarter Theatre's Shakespeare Festival. "Lear" will open this Friday with an early 8 p.m. curtain.

The 420 productions of Shakespeare in which the 28 team-mates have previously appeared include even "The Two Noble Kinsmen," dubiously attributed to a collaboration between Shakespeare and Fletcher.

The productions have been mounted on the stages of the three Stratford Festivals (Avon, Ontario and Connecticut); Antioch, Toledo, Ashland (Oregon), San Diego, New York's Central Park, Old Vic, the Phoenix, New York City Center, various Broadway theaters, the off - Broadway Shakespearewrights, the Brattle Theatre in Cambridge and the Group 20 Players of Wellesley.

One member of the company, Richard Easton, is said to be the only actor in the world to have played at all three Stratford Festivals. Members of the cast, Ellis Rabb, David Hoad and Richard Graham, have among them either acted in or directed all of Shakespeare's plays, playing 124 roles in 146 productions.

"Lear" will be followed on February 9 by "A Midsummer Night's Dream," in which Rosemary Harris will be seen at aitan.

TRY WORK GIVEN

At Trinity Church, Christopher Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners" is an ambitious work for an amateur company to assume, but the Young Comedies Club of Trinity accepted the challenge with nerve and verve and presented, on Friday and Saturday nights, a thoroughly professional production of the Fry play.

It must be said at the beginning, however, that Grenville Cuyler's "The Moon and the Mermaid" was handicapped to an almost impossible degree by the acoustics of the Trinity nave. When the actors (seated in the church pews) and addressing them from pulpit or galleries, they could be heard quite well, but when the action withdrew behind the pulpit toward the choir stalls, the fainter voices bumbled and rebounded. The balls in a handball court and it was almost impossible to understand what was being said.

This unfortunate circumstance tended to scatter the play and to dissipate its unity almost entirely. However, by the time it was half over, the play had emerged and by the end, it did indeed have a sense of wholeness—probably because, the audience had become accustomed, by that time, to the projections of the various actors.

Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners" features four allied prisoners locked in a church in enemy territory in World War II. In a kind of ecclesiastical "Sleep of Our Fathers" the cast of soldiers, as Cain and Abel, David and Abraham, Abraham and Isaac and Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, showing as he moves his actors about, the painful wrenching of man as he battles with his "absent-minded" and passionate nature.

The actors are well-cast for their multiple roles. Victor Moore as Private Peter and John Miller as Private Peter Able stood out well above the others. Munroes and hands at the conclusion of this play was relieved and competent as a middle-aged private who dreams himself God John Hamel, as Corporal Joseph Adams made a less notable impression, but such was the nature of his part.

Lightning, under a five-man crew consisting of Lewis Morris, Ralph Kenyon, Robert Woodward, Montague Darrow and Daniel Pever, was deft and imaginative. It is a good thing that this was the case, because the stage lighting also serves as scene setting, and an inept production could have spelled things altogether.

The acoustics of Trinity Church could not be improved. The Couples Club could do well to try another off-Broadway production. "Sleep of Prisoners" was a good beginning.

"MIKADO" PLANNED

Tryouts Next Week. The Savoyards of Princeton will stage "The Mikado" in McCarter Theatre on May 14 and 15, with Monroe Wade serving as dramatic director. Tryouts are scheduled for Tuesday, February 13 through Friday, February 16, in the music room of Murray-Dodge Hall. The hours are from 7:45 to 9:45 all three nights.

Parts are available for five male and four female leads, and choruses. The cast will total about 50.

"The Mikado" will be the sixth production for the Savoyards, an amateur group open to any interested member of the community. The five Gilbert and Sullivan operettas previously staged were "H.M.S. Pinafore," "The Pirates of Penzance," "The Gondoliers," "Iolanthe," and "H.M.S. Pinafore."

THREE ANGELS CHOSEN

By Hightstown Guild. Next production of the Hightstown Theatre Guild will be "My Three Angels," a comedy which ran on Broadway in 1932. It will have been directed by Josephine Slezak, who originally played on Broadway by Walter Slezak, will be taken

THE PLAYHOUSE

Can-Can (January 22-February 11) has all the ingredients of an excellent movie except excellence. The score is by Cole Porter (and it includes several of his best songs, other than "Can-Can"), the orchestrations are by Nelson Riddle, and the cast includes Frank Sinatra, Shirley MacLaine, Louis Jourdan, and Juliet Prowse. Moreover, it only runs 130 minutes (that's practically a short subject these days) and the color photography is superb.

Still, it's a bore. Miss MacLaine behaves so coyly she makes June Allyson look like a cynic. Sinatra acts as if he were downed late at night, and the script is slow-moving and unfunny, and the music is hurt by some aberrations on the part of Riddle, notably the decision to have Sinatra sing "It's All Right" with MacLaine.

The plot forces Miss MacLaine to pretend she owns a can-can cafe, and Shirley MacLaine is the only girl who protects her from the police. When an eager young prosecutor (Jourdan) convinces a kindly old judge (Chevalier) that the place must be closed down, the body is found in love with every tiny site and all emolument breaks out. At the end, Sinatra is married to Miss MacLaine. The only conceivable reasons for seeing the film are (1) for some reason, (2) to see 1) Sinatra, who is still the best despite bad arrangements and creeping middle-age-jarayx; (2) Miss Prowse's dancing, which is good; (3) Jule Styne's music, which is prettier than, say, West Trenton.

The Marriage—Go Round (February 8-14). Regular readers of this department — both of them — will recall that we have been waging a quiet battle for some time against Hsi Cooper's "The Marriage—Go Round," which gives us a new freedom to deal with "adult" themes. "Moderation has been our watchword, and will continue to be. We think that Hollywood has been able to produce films like "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," and that distributors are free to import the good foreign films that come right out of Hollywood's no room to the stork legend."

But the particular difficulty on the West Coast is that a good many producers seem to confuse "adult" with anything concerning sex; as if sex were a mature subject in "Room at the Top," they tacitly assume it must be a mature subject in the most leering, bawling comedy— "Marriage-Go-Round" is a case in point.

The plot concerns a university couple who are happily married but are having trouble with their only son, who has the intention of producing a perfect child, to be fathered by the university husband. The performance of the husband is the best, the story is handled with all the subtlety and taste of a group of high school students boasting of apocalyptic atomic success.

Jeanne Moreau, Susan Hayward, and Julie Newmar are the principal perpetrators, though it is in CinemaScope and color.

THE GARDEN

Picnic on the Grass (January 30 - February 4) is the latest effort, in French with English titles, of Jean Renoir. French top-billed stars, so we believe, of the picture. It is handled with grace and precision, but the subject matter is so silly that the attempt to build a picture lasting on it was a fiasco.

The stars are Paul Meurisse, Ingrid Nordine and Catherine Rouvel. Meurisse is a scientist specializing in artificial insemination experiments.

"Midsummer" Boys Found

Six boys have been signed up as extras in "Midsummer Night's Dream," which will open at McCarter next week, opening February 9. Taking the parts will be Jack Adams, Arthur Kempton, Steve Kraft, Lowell Miller, Ned Taylor, and John Ward. More than 40 boys tried out for the extra roles in response to McCarter's appeal published last week in Town Topics.

ination experiments. Miss Nordine is his wife, and Miss Rondeau is his daughter. The girl who volunteers for the experiments and becomes romantically entangled with the good doctor. That is the plot, take it or leave it. There is a lot of good humor and some inspired situations along the way, but you'll need a high tolerance for nonsense to enjoy it. The film is in color.

He Who Must Be Frequent (February 14), released in 1958, is going to go down in history as the most missed being named best foreign-language film of its year simply because it opened in New York during the geographic plague. Based on the novel, "The Greek Passion," by the late Ninos Karras, the film deals with a group of passionists who begin to take up the prostitutes in the parts they are playing in their village's annual passion play. It is the first trilogy, but it is handled with such delicacy and precision that the sufferings and triumphs of the characters blend into a profound and prophetic theatrical experience. Jules Dassin, the expatriate French director, who has included "Ridley" and "Never on Sunday," was the co-author and director. The Greek cast is superb. In black-and-white Cinemascope, this film is not to be missed. Recommended.

Dreams (February 7-11), produced in 1955, is vintage Ingmar Bergman. It is a well-made and absorbing film, but it has been the original of Bergman's earlier "A Lesson in Love," which appeared at the Garden a couple of weeks ago, now the distinction of being the best. Peter Cushing, Eva Dahlberg and Gunnar Björstrand are starred. The plot, treated in highly realistic fashion, exposes the inner lives of a group of adults, a sad old model-agency owner who attempts to renew an old affair with a man who is now married, and a young model who becomes involved with an aging lawyer. Recommended.

IT'S NEW

To Us

ITALIAN CRAZE

Giddy New Pottery. The phrase "Italian pottery" brings to mind something quite formal (see below) or something very realistic like an asparagus dish made like a stalk of asparagus, and so on. Certainly nothing in the giddy line.

Well, you never can tell about a Frenchman. Francois Gourmet now has some splendidly insane accessory pieces from Italy which will brighten a spring table and later on, a summer patio. You may read about these canisters in the box, this page. Their companion pieces are just as delightful.

Here, for example, is a three-cornered vase with an activated Charleston dancer crayoned on the side, prancing away next to a fringed bridge lamp. A small, round, and small-mouthed, provides the background for an absurd old automobile with window curtains. There's a coffee cup as well as Vases with a tapered base and a flat rimmed plate for a saucer.

Ash-trays are embazoned with unstable old automobiles, or with couples who have simply too much sherry. There's a plate for a roulette or horse d'oeuvres decorated fetchingly with carrots, scallions, a lemon slice and some ferocious radishes, and so on. A cheese board displays a wheel of cheese, some sausages and a loaf of good Italian bread.

In a more restrained manner, sets of Italian pottery dessert or fruit plates, six for $11.95, no two alike. When we say "no two alike," we mean just that: that in all the Gourmet's collection there are no duplicates.

The shop also has crescent shaped salad plates, each one painted with a salad green. We've had escarole, dandelion and radish, but what is that lurid leafy loaf, do you suppose?

On the other side of the Aroma is a pottery for where formality is the password. The pieces from this designer are classic and have been planned for the living-room rather than the kitchen.

The background is white with a crazed finish, and the ornaments are an antiqued brown. Stylish leaves, wreaths and medallions have been arranged in a circle to a piece, against the cream ground. There is an immense ashtray, a square cache-pot, a cigarette box and two urns, including a 10-inch-tall design that looks Etruscan.

The Scandinavians also contribute to Gourmet's table. Danish plates are offered in a sterling flaire at $10.95 for a five-piece place setting. The pieces are designed with simplicity and drama. Forks have royal bows with shadow tines, knives have a narrow profile blade which narrows to an eighth of an inch width down at the base of the handle.

The handle itself rests on this narrow edge and rises

Scribble, Scribble

The happiest and least sophisticated canisters we have in our collection (and may dear! you know how sophisticated a canister can be) are now rowed up for you to inspect at Princeton Gourmet, 211 Nassau.

They are white Italian pottery covered with scribbly cartoons. The tops are usually colored with crayon—yellow, green, blue, etc.—as though a three-year-old hadn't quite gotten around to filling in all the spaces. The sides have been decorated with sketches of cooks, also in crayon, although considerably above the three-year-old level.

Other pieces in the collection, too, but we haven't room in this box. Read about them in adjoining column.

from about half an inch. The effect, as the knife rests on the table, is that of a prodder.

The second Scandinavian offering is a charming little dinner coffee set from Sweden. It is in white, pure white, with a spray of delicious pastel flowers lovingly painted on the side of a slim, squat, minute demitasse, flat sugar bowl and handleless pitcher.

Sweden also sends a pair of hefty, basting beaters, one weighing a ton, as she lies on an ample stomach, the other reading a book which rests on a pair of ample thighs. Amusing little pieces for a beach house.

SEW!

Because Spring's Coming, Women anticipating another heavy vacation have been laying away lengths of silk stockings from The Fabric Shop so they can spend their snow-in hours whizzing up new spring suits in the sewing machine.

The shop on Chambers street is particularly delighted with some imported wools, like the English doeskin in gold or avocado (this means the skin of a deer, peah, it's a dark green), the French doeskin in spice with minute flecks of brown sugar. Both these fabrics are as fine as batiste or the thinnest silk. You'll want to line them fully when you sew.

Mrs. Stoll has been head of the music school's department of modern languages for the past six years. He and Mrs. Reardon will also discuss new trends in language teaching. A question and answer period will follow.

Mr. Norman Steenrod will be hostess-in-charge for the meeting, assisted by Mrs. John Howard, Mrs. Richard Hough, Mrs. Norman Stoll, Mrs. Elizabeth Batter and Mrs. William Hooke.

BROWNIES INVESTED

By ROBERT H. EISINGER. Eight girls have been admitted to the Scon Brownie Troop No. 18. They are Elaine Vaurio, Susan Schaffer, Carolyn Frank, Bonnie Stewart, Elaine Glinka, Delores Boyd, Beverly Sharrett and Linda G. Hough.

Mrs. Henry J. Frank and Mrs. Matthew Glinka, conducted the investiture ceremony.

Other members of the troop are Judith White, Linda Hough, Phyllis Chiu, Susan Valentine and Jessica Hallum.

Rosebud tray favors have been completed for Princeton.

RED CROSS CHAIRMAN: Margaret Nevin, who has been named chairman of the 1961 campaign for the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross.

CAMPAIGN BEGINS

For Red Cross, the 1961 Red Cross campaign for the Princeton Chapter, American National Red Cross, was launched this week with the appointment of Mrs. Margaret Nevin as chairman. The campaign goal is $500.

Mrs. Nevin is personnel director of Educational Testing Service. Since coming to this area six years ago, she has served on the personnel committee of the Princeton Hospital, and on the Community Action Services. She served as the Council's representative on the Board of the United Community Fund.

Red Cross contributions to the $500 goal will be sought from the nine auxiliaries of the Princeton Chapter in Rocky Hill, Kingston, Plainsboro, Allentown, West Windsor and Princeton, Washington Township, Lawrenceville, Cranbury and Hightstown, as well as from Princeton itself.

ENGSTRÖM TO SPEAK

To Hopewell Chamber. The annual meeting of the Hopewell Valley Chamber of Commerce will be held next Thursday, February 9, at Hopewell Mansion. The dinner and program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, senior executive vice-president of RCA, will speak on "Understanding our Scientific Age." The Rev. Frank L. Zgliczynski of St. James Church in Pennington will deliver the invocation.

The following officers will be installed for 1961: Robert L. Thalhofer, president; Richard L. Goode, vice-president; William H. Sangston Jr., secretary; and Samuel K. Hunt, treasurer. The Prince of Orange and the Pennington Quality Market will be awarded plaques for civic improvement.

The deadline for dinner reservations is noon on Tuesday. Those interested in attending the dinner and meeting should call Thunland B. Farn at HO-6-0028.

COLLEGE CLUB TO MEET

Meiday Afternoon. Frank Soda and John Reardon, teachers of Spanish and French at Princeton High School, will discuss the role of the language laboratory in teaching modern languages at a meeting of the Women's College Hospital by the troop, and Field tips to Morven and Forgate Dairy are planned. Each girl is keeping a scrapbook of the Brownie activities.

CHAIRMAN NAMED
 For Somerset Heart Fund. Chairman to head the Rocky Hill and Montgomery Township Heart Fund drive were appointed this week by the Somerset County chairman of the fund.

Mrs. Ruth H. Eisinger, Belle Alred, will organize fund-raising activities. Mrs. John Hough and Miss Grace A. Gurevic, county French Heart Fund, will conduct the drive in Rocky Hill. She is a trustee for the Somerset County Heart Association.

NEW Medalist LINE

Right now many stations are broadcasting glorious new stereo sound. It's a natural and satisfying way to miss this new dimension in listening pleasure. And it's a natural way to buy. You can buy a radio tuner and get a radio and separate turner, one for each channel. Or, buy an AM tuner on the same chassis.

Play them together. FM/AM stereo tuner.

Play them separately for FM mono or AM mono. Or buy a radio tuner and same tuner and get a separate radio another room, and listen to your favorite programs in stereo. Or buy a pair of bars of the famous hair tapers on AMI bars.

Play them separately for AM or FM. The ultimate in AM/FM stereo broadcasting.

Both tuners are capable of providing perfectly balanced sound. And both feature EICO's exclusive pre-tuning, pre-attenuation, pre-selecting which contact into each position at the exact center of each position. The result is that once set it is easy to build from hot to cold, from cold to hot, from one half of each section to the AM and FM and AM again. And the tuner is built with the very best tuning assembly - a minimum of adjustment, a maximum of sound.

*A new kind of stereo broadcasting which will be available in a short time.

MUSIC In Princeton

CLEVELANDERS HERE in Memorial Concert. The Orchestra, familiar to Princeton concertgoers for many years, will appear in McCarter Theatre Monday at 8:30 p.m. under the baton of George Solti in the annual Marie Frencik Memorial Concert.

Mrs. Prentiss was instrumental in raising the sum of money which added to the Philharmonic Fund Memorial made possible the Princeton University Concerts. As a tribute to her devotion to music, Mrs. Prentiss has been invited to the annual memorial concert in recognition of her contributions to the musical life of Princeton.

The Clevelanders will perform Monday, Fourth Symphony, with Saramae in E扁调, soprano, as soloist in the finale; Rossini's overture to "L'italiana in Algeri" and the second symphony by Edward Elgar. The last work is a commission by G. Schirmer, Inc. as one of several new works to be performed during the observance of the Princeton University's 100th anniversary.

"I SING WHAT I FEEL" Ray Charles to bring out my soul so that you can understand that I am. I want people to feel my soul." Ray Charles, blind Negro singer, expresses the intensity of his work in these words, adding, "I want them to see to sing what I feel."

Charles will appear in Dillon Gymnasium on Saturday evening on Feb. 18, 1961, at 8:30 p.m. The ticket price is $1.75. The King of the Blues" will do Jockey Silf McCoy calls him, alternates blues with rock 'n' roll. His most popular songs are "Get Down Tonight," "What'd I Say," sometimes called the most primitive work ever recorded. He is a pianist, alto saxophonist and composer, as well as singer.

KNIT!

Become Winter's Still Here. Spinnewein's onion Saylor yarn at Tulane Street's Knitting Shop is absolutely irreplaceable. It's made for bulky sweaters and for hilly treatement.

Throw it into the washing machine (after having knit the sweater, of course), then toss it into the drier. It will not pill, it is anti-stretch and it comes in 21 colors.

Imagine anything better for a baby than a sweater you can wash and dry?

Anything better for someone who's allergic to wool than pure cotton?

There you are. Choose from five big patterns, a group of eight smaller ones composed of bluegreens, rust and brown, and so on, or strong high-style colors like royal purple, mustard gold or orange.

Spinnewein also sends to The Knitting Shop its mohair-onion yarn (67 percent, 33 percent) called Frostion Petite. It has a silky look, the weight of a feather and the style of spring, 1961.

Colors are deep purple, tan, taupe, avocados, lime, greyish, and royal. The same yarn comes in a sweater pack in peach, lilac, French blue or white, with directions for a three-quarter sleeve sweater with a wide collar and buttons.

If you're tired of just filling in needlepoint, the Knitting Shop suggests some new pictures which have to be embroidered on a certain pattern and all. There's a puppy, a collie and dog scene, a sailboat in the sunset and a harbor view.

Coming along soon is a group of modern die-cuts pictures, including pillows displaying oranges and lemons or abstract designs. In addition to the pillows, there are pictures to frame, like the ones we described above.

PIANO RECITAL SET

By Mrs. Hilda Pupin. This Saturday at 3 p.m., eight pupils of Mrs. Irina L. Holt will give a piano program of solos and duets. The recital will be held at Mrs. Holt's home, 2 Hester Lane.

Duets will be performed by six students with their mothers. The pupils will be given by Isabelle Caussé and Mrs. Isabelle Caussé, Nancy Cawood and Mrs. Charles Jones, Kanny Bube and Mrs. Richard Bube, Hilary Martin and Mrs. John R. Martin, Helen and Mrs. Holt, and Barbara Brown and Mrs. Benjamin R. Brown.

Sigrid Sittig will be accompanied by Mr. Martin, with Mrs. Marilyn Buckland. Each pupil will play alone, as well as participating in a duet.

It's New To Us

was for a novice's sake. There's a basketweave in lace, too, by the way, and a slightly different shade of lace in solid wool.

A cashmere blend is pale beige and a Bowny wool is a pale pink beige. You'll find mohair in pale blue or black, slim and soft in weight and not so fury as most mohair weaves.

If you like the blues, you'll want to look at a pebble weave in a blue-and-white shade. It's done in the plain seam, too. Hounds-tooth in mohair checks are light blue, navy blue or black, and there's a regular Baskerville of a hounds-tooth in washable nylon and wool. This one is copper too.

Two white wools are on the shop's racks. One is creamy white, done in a subtle weave that's quite basketweave. The other is a plain white, quite thin, woven almost like a linen. Many of these wools are 56

Diet is not the entire answer

Many women on rigid diets discover that mere weight loss does not guarantee a more attractive figure. Very often as, excess weight drops away, body and skin become unattractively loose and flabby. Without a method of firming and toning sagging skin and muscles, while dieting, many of the unsightly bulges remain. Figurema slenderizing methods will help control these problem areas with effort and without disrobing.

The assembly, which will begin at 2:30 p.m., will not include a talk by Dr. Charles C. Price, national president of the group, and chairman of the University of Pennsylvania's chemistry department. His topic will be "Present Pertinence of the United World Federalists."

HEART TOOL DESCRIBED

At Engineers' Meeting. An electronic "pacemaker" designed to be used in cases of complete heart block will be described at the forthcoming meeting of the Princeton Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, to be held next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Frick Auditorium, Princeton University. The public is invited. Dr. George Greatbatch, of Buffalo, N.Y., will describe the five-inch, one-piece, pacemaker. The instrument, operated by batteries, is implanted under the skin of the patient whose heart has slowed down to a rate which cannot support proper body function unless such external stimulation is applied. The title of Mr. Greatbatch's talk is "An Implantable Cardiac Pacemaker." Continued on Page 15.

REPORT FROM THE PEOPLE: If each were mayor of Princeton, the first thing Scottie Sole, which will begin in Princeton, the first thing Peter Keegan (left) would do is "something" about the traffic on Nassau Street. John Argue would look into rent standards. For other areas that would receive the first attention of other "mayors," see below. (Staff

Question of the Week

Question: If you were mayor of Princeton, what is the first thing you would do?

Where asked: Around town.

Walter M. Cramp, 10 Westcott Road, Princeton, advertising and marketing consultant: I would consolidate the Borough and Township so you wouldn't have duplication of everything such as the police and fire departments, the act of incorporation. The Borough is losing population and the Township is gaining it and that is going to continue to be true as it is in every community. In the long run I think both the Township and the Borough would be better off.

Mrs. George Barrie, 24 Highborn Road, housewife: I'd establish a large luncheon at the Nassau Street School because there are so many children here. I have a school for 43 children. This puts tremendous stress and strain on the parents of children who can't eat there.

Eugene Riger, 1422 W. State Street, Trenton, office manager: I would try to arrange for it to be a paying job.

Mrs. Alice Young, 11 Winterbottom Street, homemaker: I'd try to straighten up traffic crossings on Nassau Street; they're just dreadful. The cars don't give you a chance to get across the street. When the light changes, cars often come at you from either side.

Francis Larkin, 16 Stockton Street, graduate student, mathematics: Pass an ordinance against long concerts by churches on Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Dugger, 65 McCrath Circle, research side in biology for Princeton University: I would work for consolidation with the Township.

William Schluttig, 55 Stockton Street, manager of Morven Restaurant: Remove the fast food so you don't have to throw a lasso around the man in order to get the money in. In certain streets, especially around the post office, I would redesign the street so the street could be cleaned. Then I would try to get better snow removal for the public schools.

Miss Penny Bush, 391 Nassau Street, Princeton High School Senior: I'd look into the public education system and re-organize it completely. I think there should be a greater emphasis on history and the classics and less on the contemporary and the educational. There is so much offered each subject should not be so isolated and pigeonholed. There should be an attempt to teach the various subjects as a meaningful whole. I think that should be on a higher level, especially the senior class. In fact, I think the senior class should be on a level with the first or second year class of a progressive college. Perhaps the first year of high school should be put into the junior high school category. Since public education is geared to the average student, I imagine these things would be hard to do.

Peter Keegan, 1512 Lawrence Road, Trenton, groundskeeper for the University: I'd like to do something about the traffic situation on Nassau Street around 5 o'clock. It takes us 15 minutes to get from the campus onto Nassau Street. The drivers on the side streets don't have a chance to get out.

John Argue, 44 Chestnut Street, groundskeeper for the University: I'd fix a standard rate of rent in Princeton for all working men.

William H. Scheide, 133 Library Place, physician: Get the traffic out of town.

Mrs. Cleon C. Young, 152 Rosedale Road, homemaker: Consolidate, because I think Princeton Borough and Princeton Township should be one. I think it will come up again in November.

Mr. W. Morrison, Patrick Chemical Lab, graduate student: I would try to set up some kind of a standard for rents, including a reasonable ceiling not only for rooms but, particularly, for furnished apartments.

Mrs. Linda Hinger, 81 Laurel Avenue, Kingston, secretary: Arrange for better and faster snow removal.

Theodore Zoupanos, 2 Dickinson Street, graduate student: I would see to it that they do more decent job in snow removal, especially in general. I feel it should be the responsibility of both municipal and state institutions, within their area of jurisdiction, to respond more quickly to emergencies such as snow removal.

Mr. Robert Dugger, 65 McCrath Circle, research side in biology for Princeton University: I'd like to have a chance to compare the effort engaged by authorities in other states in towns the size of Princeton and I think they do a more satisfactory and complete job.

George Chang, Edwards Hall, University student: I'd try to get that 206 bypass here.

Miss Ruth Damas, 60 Clark Street, Brooklyn, researcher: One of the first things I would do is get some kind of snow removal equipment. They seem to have very small snow plows here. They should take the snow in trucks out of town and dump it.

ADULT GROUPS TO MEET

AT YWCA. Three adult groups of the Princeton YWCA will plan special events for the coming week.

The Senior Citizens will see a new film about the United Nations, entitled "Watchdog For Peace," at 7:30 p.m. in the YWCA lounge, Avalon Place on Friday at 2:30. All interested women are invited to attend.

Warren Eason, assistant professor of economics at Princeton University and member of the board of education of Lawrence Township, will speak to the Business and Professional Women's Club of Princeton on February 8, at 8:15 p.m. in the Y Center, Avalon Place. Mr. Eason, who has visited primary and secondary schools and universities in the Soviet Union, will discuss the role of the interested citizen in community education.

The International Club will meet at the Y Center on Thursday, February 9, from 9 p.m. until midnight. Girls have been invited to wear costumes and boys have been asked to wear masks or other disguises. Prizes will be awarded for best costumes.

DISCIPLINE PANEL SET. — On February 7, the first in a series of three panel discussions on "Understanding Discipline — Developing Responsibility" will be held on Tuesday, 8 p.m., in the library of the YWCA, Broad Street. The problems of children from kindergarten through third grade will be considered.

Dr. Philip Hammond, assistant professor of Old Testament at Princeton Theological Seminary, will serve as moderator. Panel members will include Dr. Nathaniel Boonin, child psychiatrist; Dr. John C. Gill, Guidance Clinic; Miss Barbara Terrier, second grade teacher at Valley Road School; and Mrs. Bussard and Mrs. R. Morris Darrow, parents of children at Valley Road School.

The panel discussions are being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of Valley Road School. Mrs. Philip Hammond is study group chairman.

Adult Drivers Inconsiderate.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Some agency in the entertainment and traffic regulations must be established at Princeton Shopping Center. Reckless and inconsiderate driving and parking are all too evident there.

Today, January 28, at about 10 o'clock in the morning, a tan, Comet, license CFB618, was parked in the roadway in back of the shopping center. Local traffic in the area was obstructed. This same type of violation occurs continuously.

As a 17-year old, I hear great deal about inconsiderate teenage drivers. Look at the example we get from our elders!

If "adults" cannot act their age when they are not being watched, then they must be forced to do so for the common good. It simple consideration for others will not stop people from parking in a row. The fear of punishment will. Fear of this type seems to work as a check on individuals of chronological age 4; it will probably work on "adults" of chronological age 4.

In any case, something must be done in the Shopping Center. The situation as it stands now is intolerable.

Report from THE MAYOR

Still Nothing: Each year for many years during the budget-building process, the Borough mayors have and their members of Council whether they would like to vote themselves a salary for their service as members of the governing body. Again this year the question was put and the answer remained the same: No.

It seems that Borough Councilmen enjoy the opportunity to serve the community and are willing to do it for free. This mayor hopes that the citizen-taxpayers understand and appreciate the effort of members of Borough Council. Such appreciation along with their personal satisfaction with a job well done, seems to be reward enough for these men.

A Week of Budgets: Mayor and Council and key Borough staff — especially Borough Clerk Bob Johnson — have a week of budgeting. Long sessions on Tuesday, Thursday evenings and a full morning's work on Saturday put all the finishing touches on the budget which affects every municipal service.

Thursday's session brought us together with Township Mayor Ken Fairman and his colleagues for the second year of our Township's share of the cost of fire service was a mere $16,147 to protect the people and their property than a hundred million dollars in property in the 18 1/4 square miles of that municipality.

Even though Borough and Township shares added together, the total is small compared with the potential cost of the service so it is decided to have a voluntary cost. It is safe to say that equivalent paid protection would cost a million dollars or more per year.

Every Day: During Prince-ton's community-wide celebration of United Nations Week last October, we reminded ourselves that every day we are in opposition to the forces that would tear down the building of bridges of friendship with people from all parts of the world.

Last Friday, for example, a local church congregation had two distinguished young visitors from the Congo — the sister of the Bishop, Rev. Jean Luwero and Andre N'Kanza Dolumingu. These young men are studying at the University. Among other students from foreign lands, they are welcomed in the community. We want to get to know them better. We want to help them. What can we do? In a shrinking world, our neighbors from around the globe are really the next-door-neighbors of our generation.

Friday Open House: Each week the regular "Tell to the Mayor" sessions offer an opportunity for people with out opinions to speak at Borough Hall to ask questions and express their views. Such sessions are scheduled for Friday, February 3, and Friday, February 10 from 7 to 10 p.m.

Sports In Princeton

handed out a week before for the annual bucky session (club elections) is in progress but had a part in Princeton's lack of ability to maintain earlier records.

The victors led 4-0 after one period and 6-0 before sophomores Brit Mockridge avenged the loss. The final score was 11-2. Hyland got the other Princeton goal but mostly, it was a steady tattler of B.C. shots at the Princeton cage—44 of them in all during the long afternoon.

St. Lawrence Wins, 11-2. The Tigers took another solid passing. Nassau's night was a success. Lawrence stated to have already one-sided 11-2 triumph Counting 11 Canadians on their squad, the visitors lowered the unusually high total of 50 shots at sophomore goalie Jim Wright.

Hill produced a number of spectacular saves, and the size of the score was attributable almost entirely to the shoddy defense play of the day. Hill has been holding much of the season. The two-game total of 23 goals credited to Boston College and St. Lawrence is sad proof of the Tigers' inability to stick with the top teams in the east.

The home forces caged the first goal, a flip shot by sophomore Dave Hershey from ten feet. After a brief lull, a strong rally by the cage, credited to Hugh Scott, the Tigers' tally came with just 53 seconds gone, but the avalanche was not long in following.

With Brit Mockridge, sophomore, taking a turn off each time for tripping, St. Lawrence beat Hill at 2:54 and again at 6:29. It was 6-1 by the end of the period and no contest long before that.

Swimmers Face Army. Inactive since January 14, Princeton's steadily-improving swimming team is entering Army in the Pool Standard 2:30. The varsity fencing team will be in action against Columbus at 2 that afternoon in the gymnasium.

John Murray's undefeated (5-0) squash team plays Toronto here before traveling to Annapolis Saturday to meet Navy in a tough match. The wrestler still looking for a victory, met Penn at Philadelphia.

BENEFIT GAME STAGED by the Princeton High School. A team of faculty members from the Borough Public Schools defeated a quintet of Princeton High School seniors in a benefit basketball game Friday afternoon. A capacity crowd saw the teachers top the Class

Hockey Goalie Injured

Tom Wright, goalie on the Princeton freshman hockey team, was injured Saturday when struck in the mouth by a puck.

The accident occurred during pre-game practice as the freshmen were preparing to meet the Hill School at Pottstown. Wright was looking the hill and did not notice a practice shot taken at the goal by a teammate.

Brought back to the University Infirmary, he was found to have suffered a fracture to have two teeth straightened and had 12 stitches taken in his upper lip. A Princeton County doctor is the first, and

Mr. Joseph Wright, coach of the seniors' squad included Russ Perren, Archie Freeman, Chris Morrison, Jim Barbour, Fred Tracy, Tom Healy, Tracy Wehner, Bill Linley and Steve Vlastos. Marty Lombardo and Carl Roberts of the boys' Athletic Council arranged the contest.

RCA LADS UNBEATEN in the Industrial Basketball League after three weeks of play in the six-team YMCA Research and Industrial Basketball League, RCA Lads, the only team that has yet to taste defeat, was the League's early leaders with a 4-0 record. Princeton's leaders are YMCA and Opinion Research Corporation, with identical 2-1 logs.

At 10:30, Penn State dropped in 19 points and teammate Jim Burns added 15 more to parlay RCA to a 58-48 victory over YMCA. Bob Kehoe and Jack Nolan split 29 points between them for the losers who suffered their first loss.

In other games, Ray Tamayo's 23 point performance, high for the evening, enabled ORC to edge YMCA, 38-35. Princeton, 28-23. Ford Telephone Corporation lost its second game in three outings when it dropped a 41-31 decision to the 3 B's, and 1-2. Jack O'Connell and Bubie Tully combined for 32 points for the victorious 3 B's. Al Volk with seven was high for the losers.

BOWLING NOTES Paul L. Tamm, owner of The Paragon Ladd Supply bowling team (74) secured half-season honours in the Industrial League last week to highlight Princeton's bowling action. Second place went to Tiger Garage with 70 points.

The Reformers were five games back in third place, while Nassau Del and Nassau Service tied for fourth with 58 points. Crescents were sixth with 42.

SMAVG moved into a four-game lead in the Faculty League, followed by Operations MAAD and Machine Development in a three-way tie for second with 38 points. Gathorn Design (66), Pictures (55), Mechanical Engineering (52) and RDTC (45) round out the Faculty loop standings.

John Rose and Toto team tied for top spot in the Mixed league with 34 points. Sennett was a game of the pair, followed by Zeccola (24), Parke (20) and Bubeck (18). Applegate Floral Shop took a game in the Women's loop, followed by Emmons & McVaugh and Swift's Colonial Diner in tie for third with 14 points each. Conover Motors (12).

Nassau Del (12), Gathorn Design (10), Hill and Misses (9), Division 4 (10), Nassau Busters (10), Amron Homes (8) and Bookworms (2) complete the Women's league standings.

Prince Laundro moved to a two-game lead in the "B" loop, four points ahead of Maul Electric (8). Cifell, Walker, Gordon, Sportsmen No. 2 and Jefferson Plumbing tied for third with six points each.

Yeoman's Liquors held a two-game lead in the "A" loop over four teams tied for second with eight points. Sharing second spot were Farmers, Dicker's Dairy, Nelson Glass and Knights of Columbus.

Ken Luck rolled the top individual game of the week with a 255 in the "A" loop. Wally Cawley rolled a 235 in the Industrial loop. Other high scores were F. Cawley, 232; R. Cawley, 230; E. Findall, 221; Charles Perpetual, 203; Bill Dumble, 202; Bill Bathie, 200, all in the "A" loop. Howard Dorn, 199; Misses, 198; Bill 217; Ray Simson, 233; Jake Bartolino, 211; Harry Kahny, 204, and Joe Baldwin, 202, all in the "B" loop.

Also, Milton Shine, 210; Dick Edwards, 209 in the Industrial loop; Bill Parke, 210; Mike Zeccola, 202, both in the Mixed league; and Bill Bailey, 200, in the Faculty league. Saia Rose topped the Women's loop with a high game, followed by Liver Conway, 189; Ruth Martin, 188, and Betty Snyder, 180.

Obituaries

Mrs. Ady May Cleaver, 60, of Vanroy Avenue, Pennington, died January 30 following a brief illness. The wife of Charles C. Cleaver, president of the Switlik Parachute Company, she is also survived by a son, Charles J. Cleaver, Jr., of Yardley, Pa.; a daughter, Mrs. G. H. (Grace) Bridges of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and six grandchildren. The funeral will be held this Thursday morning at 11, at 2650 Pennington Road, Pennington.

James Warren Ewart, 64, of State Road, Hightstown, died January 31 at Sunfield Nursing Home in Cranbury. Born in Hightstown, he had been a farmer near Cranbury until his retirement in 1946.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Ethel E. Ewart; a son, James W. Ewart Jr. of Hightstown; two daughters, Mrs. Carol Osborn of Groves Mill, and Mrs. Elizabeth (Mrs. Fred) of Hightstown; a sister, Mrs. Fred Hopkins of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and a grandchild.

The funeral will be held in Cranbury this Thursday afternoon. After the service, the Rev. Roger Kvan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Cranbury, officiating. Burial will be in Brainerd Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Phillips, Labaw, died January 30 at the home of her grandson, Orion Labaw of 14 Louellen Street, Hopewell, where she lived. The first member of the First Presbyterian Church of Hopewell, she belonged to the church for 71 years. She taught at the Hopewell Elementary School for 24 years, and was principal of the school at one time.

A member of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty, Mrs. Phillips was the First Worshiper at Hopewell Chapter No. 112, OES.

In addition to Orion Labaw, she is survived by five other grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Nuss of East Millstone, Mrs. Louise Latham of New Brunswick, Mrs. Martha Mortimore and Jessie Conrich, both in California; a son, John Phillips, in Maryland; and eight grandchildren.

The Rev. John H. Ginter, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the funeral, to be held this Thursday at 2 p.m. at the church. Interment will be in Highland Cemetery.

TIGERS TRIM COLGATE
Easy Victory Recorded. After shooting successfully over a zone, Princeton's basketball team, last Saturday, beat Colgate's annual men's defense, 75-58, victory in Dulin Gym. The contest was the first started on the Tigers' court since Captain Carron had been sent returning from Navy service in 1946.

Although the victors never trailed, they led by only 14-13 with 12 minutes gone in the second period. In the middle of the first half, a sharp-edged surge broke the contest open and Princeton left the floor for the intermission with a 37-22 advantage.

Five minutes into the second round, it was 50-29 for the Tiger quintet, whose numerous steals of the ball were constant in the first half. Carron was high with 24, although Jake McCandless pulled his entire starting five with more than ten minutes of action left.

disastrous third period cost the Hux School basketball team any chance it had of taking the lead in the Penn-Jersey League Tuesday as it lost to Pennington School, 67 to 39.

During the first eight minutes of the second half, the Hux held a 23-point lead. The Red and Black, however, pulled away steadily, after having been held to a 9-7 lead through the first quarter and 27-24 at the half. Jim Maynell's dozen points topped Hux's efforts.

COURT RESUME COMES
To Belaguered Little Tigers. Surrounded by eight losses in nine games, the Princeton High School basketball team will not resume play until a week from Friday when it meets Hunterdon Central at Hunterdon. The Hunterdon quintet is the lone victim of the toothless Little Tigers, which failed to win a game in January.

The scores of the PHS five, like the weather, have been well below normal. In nine meetings, Coach Tony Brook's players have yet to win 60 percent of their games. The last time the Little Tigers won was against Hunterdon in averaging only 43 points a game.

Also hurting the team is its tendency to have one or two sub-par quarters in which a close contest is lost irrevocably.

A case in point is the Blue and White's 73-72 loss to Somerville. Princeton High could connect for only eight points in each of the first two periods. Somerville, however, was winning 16 and 26 points respectively to vault to an insurmountable 42-18 margin at the half.

Once again the leading point-scorer for Princeton was First-year Dan Smith, who was 14-13 with 14 points and a win.

DEAR TRAVELEX,

Our two weeks in the Caribbean was great sport, and we do wish to thank you for all the trouble you took to make our arrangements and then precious little car for us. Did you actually think that these silly little things are not supplied down there? They are. And what's more, it was a real life saver. Tell you why.

We were wondering if we'd really like that hotel you said would be about the best thing for what we wanted (we were double but still not able to whom up that little foreign car and drive off through the tropical countryside and investigate at our leisure. Well, that's exactly what has been shown by the quick little orientation tour your agent had "sold" us. We're a rest, picnics. So here we are in the sun and ice of our dear little old home town. Our greatest fun now is sporting those deep and very expensive looks, and watching the children stick pins into the little VooDoo dolls that look just like Mummy and Daddy and trying not to be too boring. Our friends (who stayed at home shoveling snow).

Many thanks and as you always say,

Cordially,
Nancy
